Dear Mr Thompson,

Please find below a selection of comments on a post that I wrote in August of this year. I was the victim of so much transphobic, homophobic and antisemitic bullying on twitter that I had no choice but to deactivate my account. I would appreciate if you could add this to the information that will be presented to the case examiners.

Many thanks,

Dr Asher Larmie

The screenshot shows an Instagram post by user 'FatDoctor' published on August 5. The post text reads: 'The process of transitioning can be very daunting. The last few weeks I have been referred to by my deadname on a number of occasions. It's nobody's fault - that's still my legal name. And I haven't had the energy or (if I'm honest) the strength to change it. It's one of those things that I know I need to do but I always find a reason to put it off. And if I'm honest with myself, it goes beyond the practical stuff because a lot of it comes down to my own fears that no one will take me seriously because I don't pass. (No need for well-meaning comments about how we don't need to pass to be accepted. That's true in theory but it's not reality) Hence the photos. They are some candid selfies that I took recently to remind me of how handsome I am and that I have nothing to be ashamed of. Image description: Asher, a white trans masc queer Jewish doctor poses for a few selfies. The first one is a side profile shot and he smiles in several others. There are 5 in total. He is wearing a grey t-shirt and if you look close enough you might spot a few small stains from his dinner.'

Funny how the people will be lying out of pity calling this woman handsome, people like this don't need more lies to feed their delusions

I started to read the comments and they were under the heading "Most relevant." After reading several, I realized the heading was inaccurate, instead it should read, "Most irrelevant."
Asher, you're amazing. Thanks for all you do and for being you. ❤️🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏

Adele Prosch hi lovely. Thank you so much. I'm not at all bothered by the negative comments. I honestly didn't notice them until I realised that I had over 150! I'm used to it and it just goes that Facebook, like all social media, does not care about antisemitism or transphobia. Also some people are simply garbage. This is nothing new. But thanks for the act of kindness.

Kevin Charles I especially love watching when transphobes accidentally affirm my gender. I'm not dressed as a woman because I am transmasc.

Well, the thread at least has a useful purpose to identify bullies. I assume self employed or unemployed as they are happy to out themselves with hate speech on a public post. Or maybe this is just all the accounts of some random TERF that they manage each day from their leafy suburb after a daily stint on MN and twitter

Get mental help, mutilating your body wont change your genetics

Marty Richard
Scott Mendrala that's why the suicide rate is even higher post-op: they realize they've mutilated themselves and they're still the same person they were before. There's no "magical transition." Just mental health problems followed by enabling behavior on the part of their fellow cultists, followed by even bigger mental health problems.
